

Joseph C. DiPietro
2/1/1945 - 12/3/2014

Joseph C. DiPietro, 69, of New Britain, passed away Dec. 3 from heart failure. Born on Feb. 1, 1945 in Milford, MA, Joseph (Joe) served in the US Navy before raising his family in Avon, CT. Joe worked in radio for WHCN and WPOP in the 1970s, and as the charismatic owner of several popular Connecticut nightclubs in the 1980s, including Brandy's and Gatsby's. Joe had friends calling "hello" everywhere he'd go, and could always be counted on to tell a good joke. He enjoyed fishing, sailing, travel, hockey, skiing, rock concerts, the New England Patriots, and spending time at the beach. Joe's spirited, fun and "larger than life" personality was beloved by all. He will be remembered with great love and gratitude as father of Christine and Jessica DiPietro, brother of Richard and Gregory DiPietro, uncle, cousin and loyal friend to so many. Joseph will be buried with Military Honors at the Connecticut Veterans Cemetery, 317 Bow Lane, Middletown, CT at 12:30pm on Monday, Dec. 8. All are welcome to attend.
