

KITTERY POINT, Maine — James L. "Brother Jim" Martin, 74, of Brave Boat Harbor Road, died Wednesday, Dec. 5, 2012, at Durgin Pines.

A true native, Jim was born and raised in York, he was a son of George and Marjorie (Randlett) Martin. He attended local schools, graduating from York High School with the Class of 1958.

Jim proudly served his country as a member of the U.S. Navy for many years, serving aboard the USS Boston.

He worked at Ben's Autobody in Portsmouth for a number of years and retired in 1992 from the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard after working as a ship fitter and rigger. Jim enjoyed membership in the American Legion.

He enjoyed more than 47 years with his loving partner, Shirley Clough, and together they made a home in Kittery Point. They enjoyed travel to many parts of the world, including the Caribbean, Mexico, Spain and several trips to Nova Scotia. They enjoyed many years at camp on Little Ossipee Lake in Waterboro, never shying away from a trip on his signature golf cart.

He is survived by his loving family, Shirley Clough of Kittery Point; sister Kathleen Marrone of Wells, sister Elaine Curry and her partner Richard of York, and sister Georgia Mae Arn and her husband Richard of Cape Neddick; step-children Stephen Clough and his wife Dale of Eliot, Deborah Chicoine and her husband Michael of Naples, Terrie Duncan and her partner Ron of Kittery, and Wendy Clough of Kittery; and many nieces, nephews and cousins.
